

Inaugural Ceremony of the Zari Hub

The handicrafts sector is one of the most vital sectors of our economy, both for generating employment as well as earning foreign exchange for the country. Zari is also an important part of this sector. Keeping this in view, the State Government has taken up a plan to develop this Industry so that the actual workers who are the real architects of the Industry get due support for economic upliftment.

The ZARI HUB at sankrail, Howrah was inaugurated by Mamata Banerjee, Hon'ble Chief Minister of West Bengal on 4th February 2012 at 1:40 p.m in presence of Shri Partha Chatterjee, Hon'ble Minister-in-Charge, Commerce & Industries and Information Technology Departments.

The Zari Hub will enable the age-old art of Zari to flourish in an atmosphere of better infrastructure and environment for a large number of artisans in West Bengal whose life is woven around the gold and silver threads. The Zari Hub will create world class Zari products to cater to both the domestic and international markets.
